

Stratton Denies Political 'Deal'

Resents Such Inference, Fulbright Told

Governor Explains Action Taken In Hodge Scandal

CHICAGO (U)—Gov. William G. Stratton told Senate investigators today it was a "dastardly inference" to say that he "made a deal" to cover up any political implications of the Hodge scandal.

Stratton told Sen. J. William Fulbright of the Senate Banking Committee that he resents any such inference.

Fulbright and the committee are investigating banking aspects of the scandal which forced the resignation of State Auditor Orville Hodge and sent him to prison.

Fulbright, quoting the Chicago Sun-Times, cited Hodge's refusal to tell the committee at an earlier session what he did with the more than 1 million dollars he stole from the state treasury.

"A Dastardly Inference"

Reading from the Sun-Times, Fulbright said Hodge was asked whether he felt that political obligations were more sacred than others, and replied, "Sometimes."

At this point Stratton broke in and said:

"Senator, I resent any implication that there was any political deal made with the governor or attorney general of this state to cover up."

"I think it is a dastardly inference to make and I resent it regardless from what source it came."

Stratton said criticism of his handling of the Hodge case was "Monday morning quarterbacking."

Fulbright wanted to know why Stratton did not become suspicious at Hodge's extravagant spending, of his purchase of private planes, a fleet of cars and a luxury hotel.

Stratton said he was unaware of much of Hodge's high living and knew nothing about his "women associates."

"I was busy with the job of being governor, and I don't spend my time in such associations," Stratton said.

In view of Hodge's high living, Fulbright wanted to know why

Teachers, School Administrators To Meet Friday

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Southern Illinois school teachers and administrators from 14 counties will attend an annual meeting of the Southern Division, Illinois Education Association, Friday, Oct. 19, at Southern Illinois University.

Schools will be dismissed so that most of the division's 2,600 members can attend the all-day session, which will open at 8:50 a. m. in Shryock Auditorium with a welcome address by SIU President Delyte W. Morris.

Other morning speakers will be Raymond L. Foster, SIU lecturer and Southern Division president; Representative Charles W. Claiborn, Champaign, chairman of the Illinois School Problems Commission; and William H. Carruthers, Murphysboro superintendent of schools and immediate past president of the Illinois Education Association.

Afternoon speaker will be Imre Kovak, Yale graduate lecturer, whose subject will be "Proud to Be an American." Music will be provided by The Ambassadors, Chicago male quartet.

H. W. Homann, Du Quoin High School vocational agriculture teacher, is program chairman.

Democrats Lack Issues, Martin Claims in W. Frankfort Address

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill. (U)—Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr., belittled Democrats for not being able to produce any issues other than Joe Smith and "the bomb."

The minority leader of the House of Representatives told a Republican rally Wednesday night that "General Stevenson has been telling us about the use of the hydrogen bomb. I know he is a great military strategist, but I'll string along with Ike and the general staff."

Martin said he could not find any Democratic issue "that has lasted over two or three days."

The Massachusetts Republican scoffed at the idea of President Eisenhower's health being an effective campaign issue.

Martin addressed the rally after attending a $10 a plate dinner at Benton, Ill. He plugged for the reelection of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen and also urged that voters in the 25th Congressional District send Sam J. Scott to Congress.

He told his audience that the Eisenhower administration had "saved the country from state socialism," and had "restored the faith of private industries."

Martin explained his part in the "Joe Smith fiasco" at the Republican National Convention, at which he gavelled down a motion by Nebraska delegate Terry Carpenter to nominate the fictitious candidate for vice president.

He said he silenced Carpenter, "a former Democratic congressman who wised up and became a 'Republican,'" after his unusual actions threatened to touch off a disturbance on the convention floor. The Republicans, Martin said, were "always used to an orderly convention."

"I knew Joe Smith was a phony, and now the whole world knows Joe Smith was a phony," Martin added.

Martin continued that former President Harry S. Truman's budget was cut "by 13 million dollars, even though he (Truman) said it couldn't be cut by one thin dime."

The Eisenhower administration "has put an extra 10 million people under social security," Martin said, and then referred to it as "an administration with a heart."

Raleigh Baptist Church to Observe Its 119th Anniversary on October 21

On Sunday, Oct. 21, the Raleigh Baptist church will observe its 119th anniversary and the pastor, the Rev. Howard Todd Taylor, fourth year at the church with an all day service and homecoming.

There will be a basket dinner at the noon hour and the Tanner quartet will be present to furnish gospel singing. Rev. LeRoy Marvel will bring the message in the afternoon. The church hopes to have 300 present for Sunday school at 10 a. m. All former members, pastors, present members and friends are invited to come and enjoy this great day together.

The church is at present engaged in a Layman's revival which will continue through Sunday, Oct. 21. Rev. Marvel, pastor of the North Williford Baptist church in Harrisburg, is the evangelist. The pastor is in charge of the song service and the men of the church make up the choir.

Church History
The following is a history of the Raleigh church, from material taken from the church records, a "History of Franklin Association of United Baptist" by W. P. Throgmorton, and "History of Gallatin, Saline, Hamilton Franklin and Williamson Counties" by the Godspeed Publishing company.

Raleigh First Baptist church was first organized as Union church on October 19, 1837. It came out of a division in the Old Bethel Creek church on the subject of foreign missions. The circumstances of the division were, briefly as follows: A minister by the name of Alcott visited the Bethel Creek church at the Saturday conference meeting and preached. He was full of the missionary spirit. On Sunday morning following, when it was learned he was a missionary, the anti-ministry party in the church, being in the majority, decided by a public vote that he should not preach. The minority arose at once and left the house—one of them remarking that he would not stay with brethren who would deny a visiting member in good standing the right to preach.

This minority was subsequently excluded by the majority without trial or consideration. Considering themselves unlawfully excluded, they proceeded to organize Union church. Elders Wilson Henderson and John Shadowen were the Presbytery. The number entering the organization was seven. Their names were as follows: George W. Burkhardt, Hannah Burkhardt, Joab Moore, Joseph B. Simmons, Catharine Barger, John C. Chenault, and Elizabeth Chenault. Site Selected for County Seat

County Board Approves Health Budget, Levy

Action Follows

Discussion of Tri-County Group

The Saline County Board of Supervisors this morning approved the overall three-county budget and the levy and the appropriation resolution for the Egyptian Health department.

Approval came after a general discussion of the health group's finances and the work it is doing in the area. Representing the department were Dr. Jams H. Wells, health officer, and L. M. Hancock, attorney for the organization.

The budget for the three counties for the fiscal year which started July 1 is an estimated $124,855. In Saline county a levy of five mills is expected to bring around $29,000, to go with the taxes collected in White and Gallatin, the other two counties in the department.

Dr. Wells explained that the state law requires a levy that will equal 90 cents per person in a county, but that the total that can be levied is five mills. The five mills, he stated, does not give the 90-cents per capita figure in Saline county; so the state subsidizes enough to bring the amount to ninety. Also, he said, the state adds 30 cents to every 90 cents to bring the figure to $1.20 per capita throughout the counties of the department.

To Add Dentist to Staff

He explained the work being done in schools such as the giving of shots and the testing of eyes and ears and said that plans are to add a dentist to the staff without extra cost to the counties.

William Douglas, board member, pointed to the importance of approving the tuberculosis act in Saline county in November.

He reminded that this is not a new tax, but a continuation of the program now in effect to take care of tuberculous persons. The vote is coming up, he said, because the law requires a vote every ten years on its continuance.

Right now, he said, there are 20 patients from Saline county in the Mt. Vernon, Ill., TB sanatorium, where the cost of care is $7 a day, and that the cost is borne entirely by the program now in effect, which must be continued by approval at the polls.

"Very few of us could pay the bills that accumulate if we or a member of our families needed sanatorium care," he commented.

Lawrence Smith, 80, retired merchant of McLeansboro, died in the Pearce hospital in Eldorado Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. The body is at the Jones funeral home in McLeansboro and funeral plans are incomplete.

Truck Crashes Through Saline River Bridge

Tennessee Man Is Killed Near Equality

Truck Loaded with Chili Hits 63-Year-Old Span

A huge tractor-trailer truck loaded with chili crashed through the 63-year-old Saline river bridge just south of Equality early today, crushing and killing the driver, Buford Howard Connell, 38, of Sharon, Tenn.

Officers and persons around Equality believed the driver was travelling east on Route 13 and became lost, going straight ahead through the town instead of veering to the left with the state highway.

He was driving a Central and Southern Truck Lines trailer and state police said they had observed these trucks go east on Route 13, then turn south on Route 1 to Cave-in-Rock, where they crossed the Ohio river by ferry.

It was assumed also that Connell had picked up his load of canned chili at St. Louis. Headquarters of Central and Southern are at Sharon, Tenn., and Mobile, Ala.

Cab Held Suspended

The body, taken out of the wrecked cab after a number of hours of effort, was moved to the Cox funeral home at Ridgway by Coroner Charles Cox.

State Police Sergeant Herbert Bramlet said the big truck went through the bridge around 3 a. m. He said he was called to the scene around 3:15, along with Deputy Sheriff Jewel Sisk, after an Equality farmer, Carl Wiltshire, came upon the scene and went to notify him.

Bramlet said that when he arrived the trailer had plunged to the bottom of the river about 40 feet below the bridge and that the cab was being held suspended by a steel rail of the bridge. Top of the cab, he said, was two or three feet above the wooden floor of the old steel bridge. Headlights were shining into the air when he arrived, Bramlet said.

Bridge Built in 1893

Bramlet walked the narrow steel rails to the cab, where he saw the driver was dead. Bramlet said the cab doubled back when the trailer fell through, crushing Connell.

Orval Dean, local heavy equipment mover, was called to the scene and he succeeded in getting the truck, suspended nearly straight up, over to the bank so that the driver could be taken from the cab.

Phil Mulvey, Equality road commissioner, said that the bridge, was constructed in 1893. He said the bridge had had a load limit of four tons for about 20 years. State police estimated the gross load that fell through was 30 tons.

A metal sign about 75 feet from the bridge announced to drivers that the load limit was four tons. Mulvey said that the bridge took traffic south over what is known as the old Ford's Ferry road, and is the chief outlet for farmers in the area to Equality, Ridgway, Harrisburg and Eldorado.

He said that some distance south the road forked, one road going to State Route 1 and the other to Horseshoe.

Illinois Baptists To Meet Nov. 7-9 At Metropolis

The annual meeting of the Illinois Baptist State association will be held Nov. 7-9 at Metropolis.

The held meetings, W. M. U. and Pastors' conferences, will be held Nov. 7. The women will meet in the auditorium of the First Baptist church and the Pastors' conference will convene in the auditorium of the Immanuel Baptist church.

This will be the 49th annual session of the State association. The association grew out of a mass meeting held in December 1906. The association was organized in January, 1907, and its first annual meeting was in October, 1909.

Out of state speakers on the program of the convention are: Dr. Louie D. Newton, Atlanta, Ga.; Dr. Dick H. Hall Jr., Decatur, Ga.; Dr. Paul Stevens, Fort Worth, Texas; Dr. C. E. Wilbanks, Dallas, Texas; Dr. John T. Gillespie, Home Mission Board, Atlanta, Ga.; and Dr. Winston Crawley, Foreign Mission Board, Richmond, Va.

Another out-of-state speaker of unusual interest is Dr. Glenn L. Archer, editor of the "Church and State Review." Dr. Archer is widely known for his vigorous leadership in opposition to a state church union in the field of education.

Girl, 2, Dies After Eating Aspirin Tablets

Martha Dee Groves, two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Groves, former residents of McLeansboro, died yesterday at 3 p. m. in the Christiv Welfare hospital in East St. Louis.

Death was due to eating a large quantity of aspirin tablets. Her body was returned to McLeansboro and is at the Ghoslon funeral home awaiting completion of funeral plans.

Barnard Rites at Equality Friday

Funeral services for Alan Barnard, 97, Sparks Hill community resident who died Wednesday at 2 a. m. in the Good Shepherd nursing home in Galatia, will be Friday at 2 p. m. at the A. K. Moore funeral home in Equality. Rev. Frank Pierce, local Methodist pastor, will be the minister and burial will be in the Elmwood cemetery.

Medal of Honor Winner Loses Stripes for Scuffle with Officer

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (U)—

A Marine whose heroic fighting in Korea won a Congressional Medal of Honor lost his stripes today for a drunken, armed scuffle with a superior officer.

T-Sgt. Alfred Lee McLaughlin, 28, Leeds, Ala., holder of the nation's highest award for bravery under fire, personally presented by President Eisenhower, was tried by a four-member court martial board Wednesday. The board fined McLaughlin $120, sentenced him to three months of hard labor and reduced him to private as a result of an incident last March 26 while he was stationed with a reserve unit at Rome, Ga.

The Marine Corps did not reveal details of the trial but police at Rome said McLaughlin threatened and fought with Maj. Henry Checklou, former commanding officer of McLaughlin's rifle company. Rome sources said McLaughlin, credited with killing 150 enemy soldiers and wounding 50 at Bunker Hill in Korea, went to the major's home armed and drunk, and fought with the officer in the yard.

They rolled on the ground until Checklou was able to disarm the sergeant, police said. Civilian authorities picked up McLaughlin at the scene.

Checklou, stationed since last June at the Cherry Point, N. C., Marine Corps base, told a reporter who contacted him there Wednesday night that he had not been authorized to discuss the incident. He refused to comment.

McLaughlin pleaded guilty of charges of drunkenness and absence from his outfit without proper authority and the board found him guilty of disrespect to his commanding officer and a superior non-commissioned officer.

His bravery in firing two machine guns at his outpost in Korea despite severe wounds and blistered hands on the night of Sept. 4-5, 1952, won McLaughlin the nation's top military honor a year later.

President Eisenhower made the presentation at the White House on Oct. 27, 1953.

The H-Bomb Ban Debate

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
Adlai Stevenson is repeating his call for a ban on H-bomb tests in the evident earnest conviction that this would be a major contribution to peace.

In the heat of a political campaign it is not easy to examine such an issue free of partisanship. But the bystanders must try, because the question is vital.

To begin, the suspension of H-bomb or A-bomb tests would not eliminate the threat of nuclear warfare, since both the United States and the Soviet Union now have substantial stockpiles of nuclear weapons.

Nor would such suspension, in America's case at least tend to limit the development of nuclear devices at a point short of the biggest imaginable bomb. According to U. S. atomic authorities, we are already satisfied we can explode a bomb of any size that could be delivered to a target.

We have been refining and fashioning nuclear weapons of smaller type.

Some of these weapons are of tactical nature, designed for use by ground forces. Others are being tried with the idea of confining fall-out within a limited area.

These are the arms we would be curtailing.

No doubt we would make a considerable impression upon neutral and other uncommitted peoples should we call off all tests. We might even find the Russians responding in kind and suspending their own.

But this problem has tricky aspects.

It is true, as Stevenson says, that we would know the instant the Reds touched off another bomb and thereby violated the truce on testing. Yet suppose they feverishly prepared new devices in a given true period and then suddenly, after eight or 10 months, let one go. We might find we had lost considerable ground in this vital field.

In such a matter the initiative would always be with the nation committed to immorality as a way of life, willing always to violate an agreement at whatever moment suited its strategic convenience.

We obviously cannot afford to fall behind.

The Russians far outdo us in ground forces and to some extent in the air. Our reservoir of atomic force, believed to be substantially greater than Russia's, is our shield and the free world's as well.

Short of an atomic ban with real enforcement teeth, and a broad disarmament plan embracing all weapons and all manpower we cannot in safety take any step which would weaken that shield.

It might bring us closer to war rather than to the peace Stevenson so sincerely desires.

Happy Pygmies

Eat Roast Beetles

To Stay That Way

WASHINGTON (AP)—Feel depressed? Discouraged? Unhappy? You might try eating roast beetles.

That's apparently the secret to peace of mind among some happy, happy pygmies living in the New Guinea interior.

The Rev. Dr. Martin Gusinde, professor of anthropology at Catholic University and an expert on pygmies, spilled the beans about the joy-producing beetles Monday.

Father Gusinde, just back from an expedition to New Guinea, said the pygmies whom he visited live in a miserable environment. But he said they are happy all the time anyway.

The 70-year-old anthropologist said it's apparently eating the beetles that keep them that way. The pygmies eat them roasted.

Missionary on Furlough from China To Speak at Presbyterian Church

Miss Sara E. Perkins, R. N. Linhsien, China

Miss Sara E. Perkins, R. N., Presbyterian missionary on furlough from China, will speak at Harrisburg Presbyterian church Sunday, Oct. 21, at regular morning worship service at 10:45.

Miss Perkins, who has been a Presbyterian missionary in China since 1926, was only a few months ago released from four and one half years in a Communist prison camp in Canton. Imprisoned on a charge of sabotage, she was not permitted to communicate with anyone on the outside for more than three years. Direct contact with the outside world began during the summer of 1954. On September 19, 1955, she was released and crossed the Chinese boundary line into Hong Kong.

Her first acquaintance with China came when she taught music at the Shanghai American School which prepared American children for American colleges. After two years in China, Miss Perkins entered the Nurses' Training School of Peking Union Medical College to prepare herself to be a medical missionary. She returned to the United States for a brief period when she graduated, and then went back to China in 1926 as a missionary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. Until World War II interrupted her work, she was in charge of the nurses' training school and had supervision of the nurses in the Presbyterian mission hospital in Peking.

Write Your Own Insurance Policy

The policy of spreading COLUMBIA AGRICULTURAL LIMESTONE, will have numerous endowment benefits:

- FAMILY HEALTH
- LARGER YIELDS
- BETTER FEED RETURNS
- MORE INCOME
- BETTER LIVING

You can remove the risk and write an insurance policy by using COLUMBIA AGRICULTURAL LIMESTONE. Rebuild the health of your soil. When it's acid it's a bad risk.

The benefits of the COLUMBIA AGRICULTURAL LIMESTONE POLICY will insure health, better living, retirement security, and the future security of those following you. Your COLUMBIA AGLIME DEALER is:

Ewell Harris, Galatia, Illinois

Ralph Carpenter, Eldorado, Illinois

LIME IS THE BACKBONE OF THE SOIL. Spread COLUMBIA 2500 LIMESTONE. It's 20% finer than 200 mesh giving you more fine powdery LIMESTONE, which will act quicker in neutralizing soil acidity.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Lord, teach us to pray. Luke 11:1.

We have known of spectacular answers to prayer. One thing is that utter sincerity is needed and a feeling of great necessity.

Salem Plans to Set Up Dep't Of Public Works

SALEM, Ill. —The City Council planned today to consolidate its water, sewer and gas departments under a department of public works.

An ordinance creating the new department was read Tuesday night and is expected to be approved next Tuesday.

It also calls for increasing the minimum rate for water users only from $1.25 to $1.50, and for increasing the minimum rate for persons who use both water and sewers from $1.80 to $2.15. Rates will be increased slightly for the larger users of commercial gas.

The changes were recommended in a report by a consulting engineer after the city recently sold its electric utility which had been the principal means of supporting city operations.

Predicted Return

Halley's comet first was seen by Sir Edmund Halley in 1682 and he predicted its reappearance in 1758, having calculated that it would take 76 years to travel its orbit.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of our husband and father, W. A. Atkinson, who passed away three years ago Oct. 17, 1953.
There is someone who misses you sadly.
And finds time short since you went.
She is someone who thinks of you always.
And tries her best to be brave and content.
Sweet to remember you, who once was here.
And who though absent is just as dear.
'Tis sad but true, we wonder why.
The best are always the first to die.
Sadly missed by his wife, Pearl and children. 95-1

Card of Thanks

PRIEST—We wish to thank our many friends and loving neighbors for their help and comforting words during the long illness and following the death of our beloved mother. We are also thankful for the many beautiful floral offerings and we especially express our sincere thanks to Rev. A. B. Clodfelder, for his comforting words during our hour of sadness, also Rev. Hatfield, Gene Chesser, Ike Williford, Dr. N. A. Thompson and all who helped us in any way. May God bless and keep you, is our prayer.

Calendar Of Meetings

The Willing Helpers of the First General Baptist church is sponsoring a bake sale for the benefit of the church Saturday, Oct. 20, at Montgomery Ward catalog office.

The Harrisburg Home Bureau unit will meet with Mrs. Anna Williams, 115 West Locust, Friday.

The regular missionary meeting of the First Church of the Nazarene will be held today at 7 p. m. All members are urged to attend and visitors are welcome.

A cake contest and auction will feature the meeting of the Galatia PTA, to be held this evening at 7:30 at the Galatia grade school. Following a short business meeting all cakes brought by the PTA mothers will be judged by the men and first, second and third place winners announced. The winning cakes will then be auctioned. Refreshments of coffee and cake will be served. Everyone invited to come and enjoy the evening's fun.

The president of the senior choir of Mt. Pleasant Baptist church requests the members to be present today at 6 p. m. to go to the Norris City Baptist church for services.

Interest Grows in Teenage Pen Pal Group at Herrin

HERRIN, Ill. (U-P)—A teenager organization seeking to create better understanding among youth of the world is gaining momentum.

Sixteen-year-old Lindell Coriasco of Herrin, president of the Illinois Association of Pen Pals, says the organization now has over 600 members—a gain of about 500 in a year.

About a year ago, the Methodist Men's organization at a Herrin church helped set the non-profit corporation in motion by paying the $10 incorporation fee and helping out on postage expense.

The growing corporation now is facing a financial crisis caused by a rapidly increasing postage budget and is thinking of charging 10 cents to join. Three cents of the fee would go to "Meals for Millions," an organization which provides meals for the hungry of the world, Lindell said.

"Anybody from the bobby-soxer age to the old who are young at heart can join," said Lindell, whose ambition is to be a diplomat. "All they have to do is write to the Illinois Association of Pen Pals, Box 35, Herrin, Ill."

Lindell averages writing a letter a day. He displayed a wall photo gallery including pen pals from Japan, England, Israel, Haiti and Iceland.

Popular topics in the letter exchanges these days are politics, the Suez situation, rock-and-roll music and the Olympics.

"Japanese teenagers are crazy about rock-and-roll," Lindell said. One correspondent from Haiti gives Lindell vivid descriptions of hurricane attacks on her homeland.

Another teenager from Holland thought that "every American family had four Cadillacs in the garage," said Lindell. "I guess it's because they have so many bicycles over there."

As for the exchange list, most foreign youngsters make requests for American candy and bubble gum.

Loyal Workers Ladies' Bible Class Has Potluck And Regular Meeting

The Loyal Workers Ladies' Bible class of Buena Vista met with Mrs. Lula Hughes Monday, Oct. 15, for a potluck dinner and regular business session.

After a delicious noon meal the business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Mary Shell. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Eva Estes followed by group singing "More Like the Master," "Heavenly Sunlight," and the class song, "Everybody Ought to Know Jesus."

A short business meeting was held during which each member answered roll call with a verse of scripture containing the word "heart."

Mrs. Lula Hughes and Mrs. Eva Estes sang "The Future" followed by a reading by Mrs. Barbara McConnell, "He Giveth More Grace," and one by Mrs. Laura Suver entitled "The Hands of Christ."

The devotion, taken from the fifth chapter of Acts, was given by Mrs. Ruth Pickford.

An interesting group discussion on the Book of Genesis was conducted by Mrs. Shell after which the meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Shell and Mrs. Ethel Blue.

The birthdays of Mrs. Gertrude Ohl, Mrs. Ruth Pryor and Mrs. Eva Estes were remembered with lovely gifts from the members of the class.

Those present to enjoy the potluck were Mrs. Bess Wiley, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Ohl, Mrs. Laura Suver, Mrs. Mary Shell, Mrs. Orpha Wagner, Mrs. Mildred Smith, Mrs. Nell Denny, Mrs. Lois Buchanan, Mrs. Barbara McConnell and daughter, Cathy, Mrs. Ethel Allen, Mrs. Ethel Blue, Mrs. Eva Estes, Mrs. Marilee Joyner and Mr. and Mrs. William Hughes.

Others joining the meeting later were Mrs. Tess Rogers, Mrs. Phoebe Hutchinson, Mrs. Icalene Parkinson and Mrs. Ruth Pickford.

The next meeting will be a potluck at the home of Mrs. Mildred Smith Nov. 15.

Earl Huston And Family Visit Relatives Here

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Huston had as guests over the week end one of their twin sons, Earl Huston, and daughter-in-law, Mattie Huston, and granddaughter, Phyllis Holsworth, and two great-grandsons, all of Pontiac, Mich. The group has been on vacation since Sept. 29. They motored to Great Falls, Mont., to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Masters and several days there they went to Washington to visit Mr. Huston's brother-in-law and sister, Lt. Col. and Mrs. C. J. Jorgenson and their daughters, Jane and Margaret. From there they traveled through all the western states, going through South Dakota, Tennessee and Joplin, Mo., and to Arkansas where they visited Mrs. Huston's brother, W. M. Biggs.

In Harrisburg they visited Mr. Huston's parents who are ill, and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Huston, and son Henry Jr.

On Sunday they visited another brother and sister-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. Carl Huston, and children, Mary, Michael and Carla Sue, of Cynthiana Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Huston and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Huston attended church services at Rev. Carl Huston's church Sunday.

On Monday night the group returned to their homes in Pontiac, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Hal Johns of New Burnside are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Mary Ann, to Richard Cederberg, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cederberg of 2817 North Lakewood Avenue, Chicago.

Miss Johns graduated from the Vienna high school and attended Southern Illinois University of Carbondale. At present she is employed by the Electro Data Division of Burroughs Corporation of Chicago.

Mr. Cederberg graduated from the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago, and is now employed by Motorola of this city. Wedding plans are incomplete.

War Dads Auxiliary Entertains Husbands With Masquerade Party

Members of the American War Dads auxiliary entertained their husbands with a masquerade party and hobo supper Tuesday night.

About 35 members and guests were present and many beautiful and comical costumes were worn and an enjoyable evening was spent in trying to identify each other.

Judges selected the prettiest, the most comical and the one hardest to identify and winners were presented with a prize.

Each brought their supper in a package tied in a bright bandanna, hobo style, and these were spread on a long table gaily decorated in keeping with the Halloween season and hot coffee was served by the entertainment committee.

After supper the evening was spent in playing games.

Hollingsworth Reveals He Informed Stratton Hodge Delinquent in Reports

SPRINGFIELD (U-P)—Illinois' finance director has revealed he informed Gov. William G. Stratton of the delinquency of convicted State Auditor Orville E. Hodge in making required fiscal reports.

Morton Hollingsworth said Wednesday that "it was made clear to me that as director of finance I had no authority" over the auditor's office to demand reports.

Hollingsworth—also state Republican chairman—made his statements in replying to a story in a St. Louis newspaper. The story quoted Hollingsworth as saying that Gov. Stratton "took the position he could not force Hodge to file (the reports), so nothing was done."

Denying this, the finance director said he had only discussed with the newspaper reporter his own opinion and not Stratton's that he didn't think "there was anything the governor could do" legally about the reports.

Meanwhile, the Bank of Elmwood Park—in which stock was once held by Hodge—changed its name to that of the First Security Trust and Savings Bank. The change was recently voted by stockholders and approved by Acting

State Auditor Lloyd Morey. The bank did not figure in the Hodge scandal directly. Hodge, however, closed its predecessor and later emerged as a secret stockholder when the bank was reopened under the name of the Bank of Elmwood Park.

Last week the head teller at the bank was arrested and admitted an alleged shortage of $28,000 in his accounts. Operations of the bank also have been under the scrutiny of the U. S. Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

Non-Farm Employment Up in Illinois

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Non-farm employment in Illinois reached 3,474,000 persons in September, up 23,600 from the previous month, State Labor Director Roy F. Cummins said today.

The September figure was more than 64,000 higher than in the same month last year and only slightly below the record 3,507,600 workers employed in non-farm jobs in December, 1955.

Raleigh Baptist Church To Observe Anniversary

can learn, was the first pastor. Union church was in Gallatin county until 1847, when the county was divided and the west side called Saline. The present site of Raleigh was chosen as the county seat. The county court chose a surveyor to lay out the town, which was named Raleigh by the County court. Raleigh was named after Raleigh, North Carolina, and the name was submitted by Andy and Hiram Musgrave to the County court, naming this village after their home town of Raleigh, North Carolina. One of the survivors of the Musgrave family, namely Essie Musgrave, presently resides in Raleigh and is a member of Raleigh church and has been for 65 years.

When the survey was made, there were only three families living in this area. They were, Andy Musgrave, Mrs. Crawford, and A. Sloan. The first family to settle in this place was that of Alfred Aldridge from Posey County, Indiana. Soon after this, the name of Union church was changed to Raleigh church. For the next 35 years after the organization of the church there are no records. Raleigh church had one-fourth time preaching from 1837 to 1900. In the year of 1900 J. S. Wicks was called as pastor and the church began one-half time preaching service.

In the year of 1942, E. R. Beuchler was called as the first full time pastor. The Rev. M. J. Jones, who was the grandfather of Senator Glen O. Jones of Raleigh, was pastor of the Raleigh church 17 years. He served four different times as pastor.

Since 1871 there have been 45 pastors of the church with the present pastor, Rev. Howard Todd Taylor, there since 1952. Records from 1837 to 1871 were lost except that it is known that T. M. Vance preached once a month for 12 consecutive years. In 1860 M. J. Jones was ordained by the Raleigh church and in 1871 was chosen as pastor.

Other Churches Organized

In 1842 the church joined the Franklin association, and so far as the records show, remained in that association until the organization of the Saline association in 1890.

Records show that two neighboring churches were organized from Raleigh church. In 1850 Raleigh church granted letters of dismission to twenty-one members who organized the church formerly called Wolf Creek, now the First Baptist church of Eldorado. Their first pastor was Elder T. M. Vance. Several years later several members were granted letters of dismission to organize what is now known as Union Grove church.

So far as is known, there have been only three houses of worship. The second house was built in 1882, and the present building in 1928. In 1953 the church was remodeled and an addition was built on to the present building. In the new addition are additional class rooms, pastor's study, library, and a beautiful baptistry upstairs, and a complete modern kitchen and large rest rooms are on the ground floor. The church is heated by an automatic natural gas heating system, and cooled by 15 tons of air-conditioning, all of which have been installed in the past three years.

In recent years the church has ordained the following brethren as ministers of the gospel: Rev. Cloyd Wesley, Rev. Charles Holland, Rev. Leonard Whitlock, and Rev. W. E. Turnbaugh.

Greatest Year for Church

The present pastor, Rev. Howard "Todd" Taylor, has served the church as pastor for a period of four years. This is the longest period of service for a full time pastor in Raleigh church. During this ministry of four years of which October 19, 1956, will mark the beginning of his fifth year, there have been 143 additions to the church, 98 of these by baptism and 44 by letter, and one by statement.

In this year of 1956, Raleigh church has had its greatest year of its 119 year history in all phases of its work. The gifts to all mission causes total $2,168.71. The total income for the year is $15,150.28. There have been 60 additions this year, with 41 of these coming by baptism, and 19 by letter.

The Sunday school has enrolled 310 with an average attendance of 172 per Sunday. This is an all time high and the record Sunday was 271, exceeding the 250 population of the village.

The Training Union has had its greatest year with 107 enrollment and an average of 61 per Sunday in attendance. The record attendance for Training Union was also set this year with 125 present, or one-half of the population of the village.

The Raleigh First Baptist church has been selected as the outstanding rural and village church of the Saline Baptist association, consisting of Saline, Gallatin, and Hamilton counties. This recognition is given by the Illinois Baptist State Association with offices in Carbondale, to churches in towns or villages of

Nobel Prize To 3 Doctors

Two Americans Share Honor with German Physician

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — A German doctor who discovered a new method of diagnosing heart and pulmonary ailments and two American physicians who brought the method to a high state of perfection were jointly awarded the 1956 Nobel prize for medicine today.

Prof. Dickinson W. Richardson, 60-year-old professor of medicine at Columbia University, French born Dr. Andre Cournand, 61, his associate for 25 years at Columbia, and Germany's 52-year-old Dr. Werner Forssman, shared the $36,000 prize.

Their method involves catheterization of the heart—the slipping into the heart of a tube which permits study of the internal conditions and enhances the value of diagnosis. The medical profession has called it a milestone of medical progress.

Forssman evolved the method as a young doctor in Berlin in 1929. His colleagues at Eberwalde Surgical Clinic failed to support him in his research and he experimented on himself.

He slipped an eled tube into his arm, pushed it through a vein up through the arm and into his heart. And with the tube still there he walked up two flights of stairs to the X-ray department of the clinic to prove his point.

His colleagues offered nothing but criticism and the discouraged Forssman turned his attention to urology.

His discovery caused a stir in the United States and Cournand and Richardson continued his work. Dr. Robert Leach, executive officer of the department of medicine at Columbia, said their contributions were of "outstanding importance."

The tube used as a catheter is about the size of a heavy string used in tying a package. Its inner diameter is about the size of the lead in a pencil. It is about a yard long, stiffened so it will not collapse, and opaque to X-rays.

It serves two purposes — the proper diagnosis of certain cardiac conditions, and a research method for investigating the basic performance of the circulation system.

Airman Held for Slaying Teen-Ager In Gang Brawl

CHICAGO (AP) — An 18-year-old airman was held on a technical charge of murder today for the slaying of another teen-ager in a south side street brawl of about 40 youths in which two other boys were wounded.

Police said Fred Kruse gave himself up about four hours after the fatal shooting Wednesday night and confessed the slaying of Warren White, 18, and the wounding of Edward Melant, 18. Richard Bukovic suffered knife wounds.

Police also said that Kruse, on leave from an air force base near Cheyenne, Wyo., first denied the shooting but later admitted it in a statement to Asst. State's Atty. C. V. Thompson.

In his statement, Kruse said he "shot into the air once."

"Some big guy came at me," Kruse told police. "I don't know which one but a pretty big guy. I aimed the gun and fired once."

Kruse later led authorities to where he had hidden the gun, a target pistol he purchased in Cheyenne, under a concrete slab in a vacant lot.

Chicago Man Heads Hod Carriers

CHICAGO (AP) — Joseph V. Moreschi, Chicago, has been elected general president of the International Hod Carriers, Builders and Common Laborers union.

Moreschi was chosen Wednesday at the 13th annual convention of the union, representing 450,000 members.

Named general secretary was Peter Fosco, also of Chicago.

Among vice presidents re-elected were Edgar F. Smith, Springfield, Ill., and John H. Taylor, St. Louis, Mo.

Registration Of Voters Off

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Total voter registration for the Nov. 6 election in Illinois was placed at 5,217,858 today by the secretary of state's office, a drop of 85,663 from 1952.

Registration in 1952 was 5,303,521.

Downstate registration increased, while Cook County registration decreased.

Current downstate registration was placed at 2,607,858, an increase of 49,008 over 1952. Cook County registration was reported at 2,610,000, a drop of 134,671 from 1952.

The secretary of state's figures are based on reports and estimates from county clerks.

Of the Cook County total, 2,075,000 voters were registered in Chicago, and 535,000 in the suburban county area.

The Chicago registration was down, while the suburbs showed an increase.

Illinois Coal Production Up

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Illinois coal production hit 3,692,758 tons during September, an increase of almost 150,000 tons over September 1955, the State Mines and Minerals Department reported today.

The September production was 8,000 tons greater than in August. One person was killed in a mine accident during September and 95 were injured. This brought the 1955 casualty totals to 15 dead and 749 injured.

The September production was reported by 146 mines in 34 counties. They employed 11,485 persons, compared to 10,831 working in August.

Christian County was the top producer with 551,593 tons, followed by Williamson County with 526,966 tons.

Contractor Says He Had to Prove GOP Affiliation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A contractor testified today that his company had to "prove" it never made contributions to the Democratic Party to qualify for a 43-million-dollar government contract under the Eisenhower administration.

The contractor, Randall Cremer, former vice president of the Frederick Snare Corp., was questioned by a House Government Operations subcommittee. The subcommittee is investigating the alleged use of political influence in obtaining a contract in 1954 to expand the government-owned nickel plant at Nicaro, Cuba.

Cremer testified that repeated attempts were made to convince Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall that the Snare corporation was operated by staunch Republicans.

Hall has denied as "pure bunk" the charge that he "cleared" the company for the contract after being assured its officials were all Republicans.

Stratton Denies Political 'Deal'

Stratton wasn't suspicious of Hodge's request to the Legislature for a $325,000 emergency appropriation for his office.

Stratton said he did not veto the emergency appropriation because the state purposes were justified. He said he set a record during his current term by vetoing measures appropriating $4 million dollars.

Fulbright said it was "all the more remarkable" that he didn't veto the Hodge appropriation. He said most of the appropriation eventually went into Hodge's pocket.

How Hodge Forced Out

In the Hodge case, Stratton said, he had no control over other elected state officials such as Hodge, but decided to try to force the auditor to resign.

He said he increased the auditor's bond from $50,000 to $100,000 by executive order under a little used statute, then met with Hodge and the state attorney general (Latham Castle) and persuaded Hodge to resign. Hodge, he said, was "highly emotional" and wept. Hodge seemed highly worried over the property rights of his family, Stratton said.

Stratton said he took over the auditor's office and the treasurer's office and stopped all business. He said it was "particularly difficult" for the governor to do this, since such state offices were responsible directly to the people and not to the governor.

"But you did interfere by forcing Hodge to resign?" said Fulbright.

"I thought there was an emergency," said Stratton, "... I

Britain Sends Jets to Jordan

JERUSALEM (Israeli Sector) (AP) — Britain was reported sending its latest type Hunter jet fighters into Jordan today to strengthen its military forces there under a defense treaty with the desert kingdom.

Relations between Jordan and Israel have been strained because of recent Jordanian attacks on Israeli and several Israeli "retaliation raids" which killed scores of Jordanian police and Arab Legionnaires. Each has accused the other in the United Nations of "aggression."

A Cairo dispatch quoting the semi-official Middle East news agency, reported an Iraqi brigade (possibly 5,000 men) had moved up to the Jordanian border, ready to move across when asked. Other Iraqi units were reported en route to positions near the border.

There was no official confirmation of the British RAF reports, but informed sources in Amman, the capital of Jordan, said an "unspecified number" of Hunters were expected there in the next few days to reinforce the RAF's Amman airbase.

Daily News Recommends Election of Austin

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Daily News today recommended the election of Democrat Richard B. Austin as governor to clean up "a big, stinking mess in Springfield."

BEL AIR COUPE MIRRORS NEW STYLING—Longer, lower "in motion" emphasis on design of Chevrolet's three series of passenger cars for 1957 is evident in this view of the new Bel Air sport coupe. Along with the exciting exterior and interior styling, a higher performance peak and marked mechanical advances are among features. The new models will be on display Friday at Saline Motor Company, local dealer.

Fuel Injection, New Transmission to Make Debuts with New Chevrolets Friday

Fuel injection and a new triple-turbine automatic transmission will make their debut on the 1957 Chevrolets which will be displayed at dealer showrooms Friday, Oct. 19. The new Chevrolets will be displayed locally by Saline Motor Company.

The Chevrolet Motor Division announced today that fuel injection will be introduced on the Corvette engine, a lively new V8 of 283-horsepower that is to be available as an option throughout the line of Chevrolet passenger cars. Also unveiled for the first time is the new transmission, known as the Turboglide.

Fuel injection, a long-time objective of American automotive engineers in their quest for ideal flexibility in performance, replaces the customary carburetor. Because of quicker power response and faster warm-up, it is expected to gain almost universal adoption within a few years.

The Turboglide transmission is a Chevrolet exclusive. It carries the principle of torque conversion—first introduced in Chevrolet's Powerglide in 1950—to a new peak in efficiency. The triple-turbine—with infinitely variable ratio characteristics—produces an uninterrupted driving force at all speeds. There is no feeling of "shift."

In eye-appeal the 1957 Chevrolets differ strikingly from 1956 models. While two and one-half inches have been added to overall lengths, the horizontal sweep of new styling motif gives the impression that the car is even longer than its 200 inches. All bodies are lower, with a reduction of an inch and a half in height of the cowl and substantially increased windshield areas.

Common to the design of all passenger cars is a rugged front end that combines a massive guard and bumper ensemble with an aluminum grille screen and inset parking lamps. Lance-shaped wind splits on the hood add a touch of modernity. Chevrolet again offers exclusive exteriors and interiors in each of its series.

On the seven bodies in the Bel Air series, for instance, a lean chromium spear extends rearward from the headlamp, spreading gracefully downward to the bumper and also branching upward as a rear quarter molding. The area encompassed by the diverging lines of the spear may be two-toned to conform with the body roof color or fitted with an optional panel of rolled aluminum. Two-Ten models, eight in number, have a single downswept lance molding from front to rear. One-Fifty side moldings on four body models extend downward from the sash and then horizontally across the rear fenders.

A variety of sparkling new colors in combination with the body selections furnishes the customer with 460 choices in the appearance of the Chevrolet he buys. Easily read instruments are sheltered under a cove, with all control knobs recessed as a safety measure. Other body highspots include a new ventilation system that has inlets under the headlamp hoods and supplies up to 22 per cent more air.

To power its 1957 line, Chevrolet will build one six and four new V8s ranging in output from 140-horsepower for the six to a sensational one-horsepower per cubic inches of displacement for the "Corvette V8."

Reception at SIU Friday for Dr. Chas. Colby

CARBONDALE, Ill. — A pre-publication reception at Southern Illinois University Friday, Oct. 19, for Dr. Charles C. Colby will highlight the forthcoming publication of Colby's "Pilot Study of Southern Illinois" by the SIU Press.

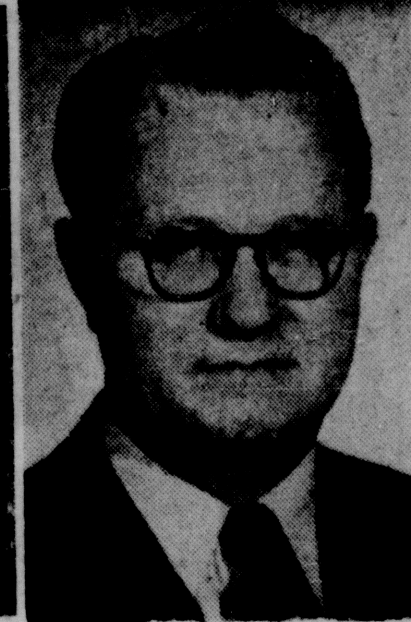

The reception will be held from 3 to 5 p. m. in the University Cafeteria. Area residents and friends of the author are invited, according to Vernon Sternberg, Press director.

Colby, emeritus professor of geography at the University of Chicago, was on the SIU faculty while he worked on the area pilot study.

Preceding the reception, Dr. Colby will talk about his work on the pilot study at the regular noon meeting of the Carbondale Lions Club in the Elks' home dining room Oct. 19.

An autographing party for Colby will be held Saturday, Oct. 20, from 10 until noon at the Baptist Bookstore in Carbondale.

Two other appearances by the author have been scheduled for

TO CONDUCT REVIVAL at Ingram Hill Baptist church. Rev. Lee Swope, left, pastor of First Baptist church of Marion, will preach and Rev. Floyd Lacy, Saline Association missionary, will lead the singing, at revival services to be held at Ingram Hill Baptist church Oct. 22-Nov. 2, starting at 7:30 each evening. Rev. Swope was pastor of the First Baptist church of Pinckneyville before accepting a call to Marion and was an Army chaplain for more than two years during World War II.

October 22. Colby will be interviewed by Larry Doyle on the morning Breakfast Club program over WCIL, Carbondale, and will be the speaker at the regular Southern Illinois Incorporated directors meeting at 6:30 p. m. in Engle's restaurant, Carbondale. Other special appearances are still to be arranged.

October 13th Lucky Date

Ike Charges Half Truths by Stevenson; Adlai Attacks Nixon

By United Press
Touring Republican and Democratic standard bearers stepped up personal attacks and hammered away at regional issues today in major campaign swings through New England, the Midwest and the far West.

President Eisenhower charged Adlai Stevenson with "half truth" and "hit and run" statements in a speech in Seattle, Wash., Wednesday night. He also lashed back again at the Democratic presidential nominee's proposal to end H-bomb tests.

Stevenson, using some of the sharpest language of his campaign, denounced Vice President Richard M. Nixon as a shifty exponent of expediency and man of many faces in Flint, Mich., Wednesday night.

Nixon termed Stevenson a peddler of "gloom and doom" who is "selling our economy short" in a speech prepared for delivery today in Providence, R. I.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, accused Mr. Eisenhower of forcing down farm prices and packing up interest rates to benefit big business in a speech prepared for delivery today in Joplin, Mo.

The President, touring the Pacific Coast, pledged in a speech prepared for delivery in Tacoma, Wash., today to press for congressional approval early next year of his four billion dollar school construction program.

He said he would ask that the school construction program be carried out in four years, instead of the five originally planned. The program was blocked in Congress this year after a segregation rider was attached to the bill.

The President also earlier directed that top administration aides prepare a detailed reply to what the White House called "rather extraordinarily incorrect statements" of Stevenson to halt the nuclear tests.

Stevenson Blasts Policies
Stevenson moved today into Ohio attacking the GOP farm and big business policies. He compared

Area Citizens to Sample Opinion on Nation's International Responsibilities

CARBONDALE, Ill. — A grass-roots sampling of informed public opinion on the nation's international responsibilities gets underway in Carbondale Monday when a "work group" of 25 area citizens meets here to discuss "The American Citizen's Stake in the Progress of Less Developed Areas of the World."

The topic is one of five blue-printed for discussion by similar groups throughout the country in the next two years. The program, set up by the U. S. State Department and the National Commission for UNESCO, is aimed at providing government policy-makers with an accurate review of "responsible public sentiment."

The Carbondale program, initiated by Southern Illinois University at the request of the State Department, will be piloted by a 31-man sponsoring committee headed by Willis G. Swartz, dean of the Graduate School at Southern. About half of the committee members will serve on the first work group.

what he called the plight of the farmer with the protection which he said was afforded to General Motors by the administration.

"The administration has treated the farmer like a poor and troublesome relation," he said in a speech prepared for delivery in Akron.

Then contrasting the position of General Motors with that of the farmer, Stevenson said:

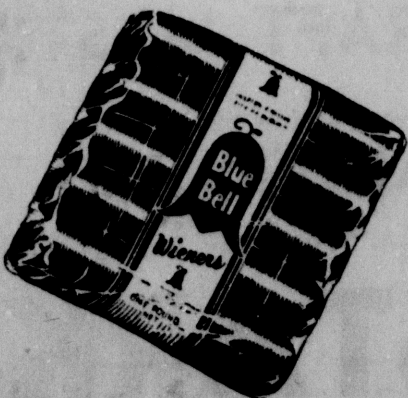

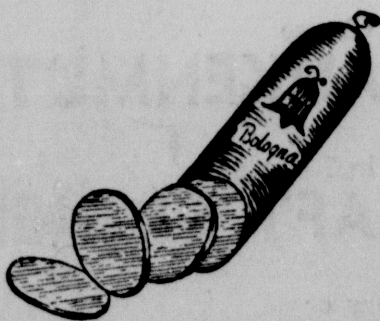

"If General Motors had to depend on the weather for its production, if it had to dump a year's production on the market in a few weeks, if it lacked capital to hold goods off the market, General Motors would need protection — and from this administration would get it."

Eldorado Seeks Sixth Victory Friday Night

Unbeaten Eagles
Will Be Host to West Frankfort

Eldorado, one of the very few unbeaten and untied football teams in the state, goes after victory number six Friday evening, hosting West Frankfort of the South Seven conference.

In rolling to five consecutive wins the Eldorado Eagles have defeated teams from three different conferences and two independents that will participate in league play next year.

To start the season Eldorado won from Anna, member of the Southwestern conference. The second victory for the Eagles was at the expense of McLeansboro, an independent but member of the newly formed Southern Illinois conference that will have football competition in 1957.

Then Harrisburg of the South Seven was added to the victory string and the fourth victory was over Christopher, member of the Black Diamond conference. Last week Carmi, an independent, but listed to participate in the North Egyptian conference next season, was the victim.

Friday the Eagles will try the South Seven again and meet West Frankfort, winless but with one tie in two games in the league. In the conference WF tied with Mt. Vernon 7-7 and dropped a high-scoring 32-20 game to Marion. Outside the loop WF dropped a decision to Murphysboro, won from Johnston City and tied Carbondale.

Mitchell Reports Sore Leg
In last week's 20-6 loss to powerful Murphysboro, West Frankfort showed a better-than-average passing game, taking to the air 22 times, completing nine, but two were intercepted.

The lone WF touchdown was on a Florian-to-Neibel pass the play covering 64 yards.

Eldorado Coach Al Adams is concerned about the condition of Jack Mitchell, top notch guard and linebacker.

Tuesday Mitchell reported a soreness in one of his legs and it was found the leg was bruised and apparently infected. He was taken to a doctor and received a shot, but it had little or no effect and the leg appeared worse Wednesday. He was to receive additional treatment Wednesday and was not reporting for practice.

In addition to playing a fine game as offensive guard, Mitchell had taken over the line backing position since Gary Phelps was injured more than a week ago. Phelps, a fullback and linebacker, suffered ankle injuries in the Christopher game and has not returned to anything approaching full strength.

"B" SQUAD LOSES TO FAIRFIELD, 21-12
Eldorado's "B" team dropped a 21-12 decision at Fairfield Tuesday night.

Laffoon, freshman fullback and McCallister, sophomore halfback, scored Eldorado's TDs.

Griffith Studies Offers to Shift Senators' Franchise

WASHINGTON — Calvin Griffith pondered three offers to shift Washington's baseball franchise today while one newspaper appealed directly to President Eisenhower "to save our Senators."

"I don't know what the future holds," said Griffith, who is studying offers to move the club to Los Angeles, San Francisco or Louisville. "I am trying to work out a solution, and I can't give an answer as to whether the club will stay here or move—at least until after the club's board of directors discusses the various proposals to-morrow afternoon."

H. Gabriel Murphy, a Washington insurance broker who owns 40 per cent of the Senators' stock, is the only board member definitely known to be against a shift. Murphy threatened last week "to sue in every court in the land" to block transferring the Senators to another city.

Annual Antique Show At Evansville Oct. 23-25

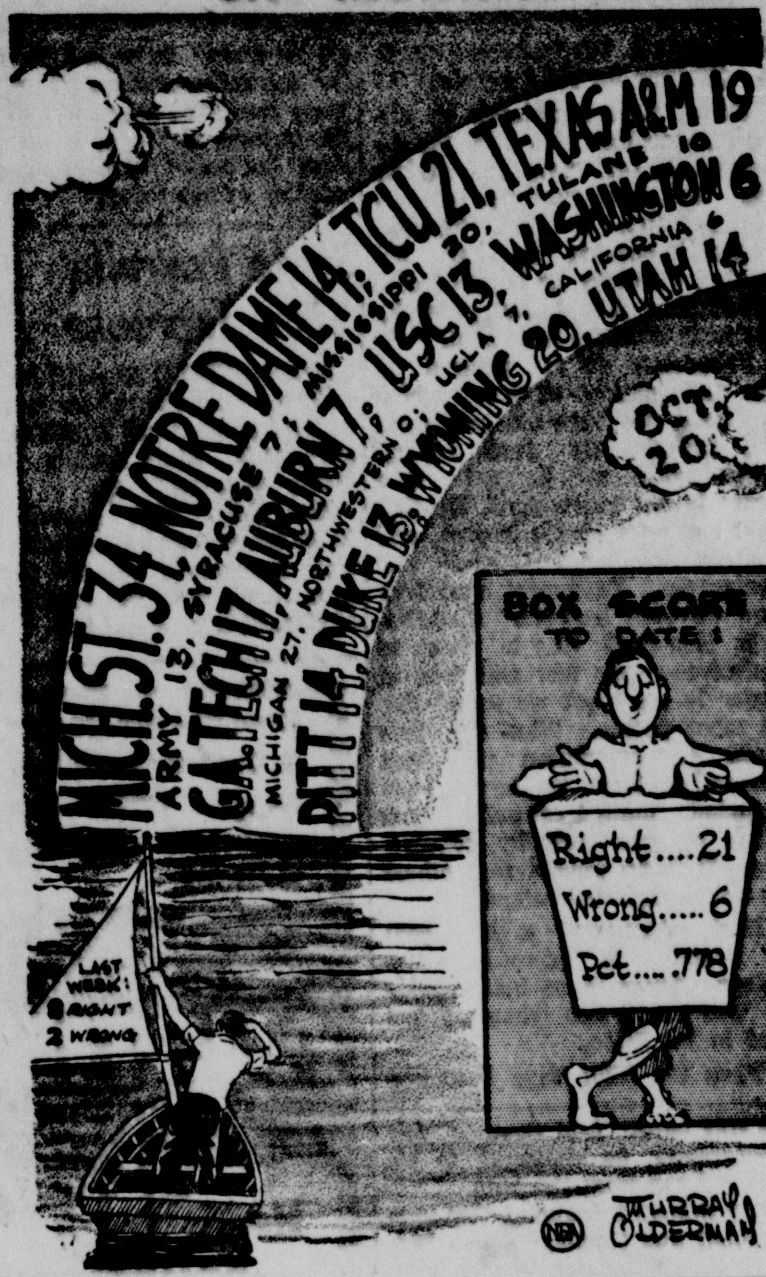

The ninth annual Antique Show and Sale at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church in Evansville, Ind., will be held Oct. 23, 24 and 25. This show, which is looked forward to each year by many persons, is presented in the church at 641 Washington Avenue in Evansville and is open from 12 noon to 10 p. m.

This year the Tea Room will use "A Country Fair" as its theme, and decorations will be in this motif.

There will be a beautiful Old English Silver display, in addition to unusual collections of furniture, ironstone china, brass and colored glass accessories. Draperies and rug braiding will also be featured.

SKY RIGHTING

Picking the Grid Winners IN THE Sports Parade

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK — Here are the weekend football "winners"—we hope:

Game of the Week

Michigan State over Notre Dame—a strong, versatile, well-balanced M. S. team engages the twice-beaten Irish, whose sophomores lack precision and certainty. Although comparative scores often lack significance, we can't forget that the Spartans crushed Indiana, 53-6, whereas N. D. was pressed to beat the Hoosiers, 20-6.

The East

Syracuse over Army — Still too much butter on Cadet fingers. Princeton over Colgate—Tigers' running attack too potent.

Yale over Cornell—With ease. Navy over Cincinnati—Just a workout for the Middles.

Also: Brown over Pennsylvania, Harvard over Columbia, Holy Cross over Dartmouth, Boston College over Rutgers, Boston U. over Villanova, Lafayette over Bucknell, Delaware over New Hampshire and Virginia over Lehigh.

The Midwest

Purdue over Wisconsin—Powerful, well balanced attack wins. Ohio State over Penn State—Bucks pack too much power.

Minnesota over Illinois — But hold your breath for a close one. Also: Oklahoma over Kansas, Michigan over Northwestern, Indiana over Nebraska, Iowa over Hawaii, Missouri over Kansas State, Colorado over Iowa State, North Carolina State over Dayton, Tulsa over Detroit, College of Pacific over Marquette and Wichita over Drake.

The West

California over UCLA — Too close for comfort. Southern California over Washington—Trojans geared for this one.

Stanford over Oregon—Brodie's passing should do it. Also: Oregon State over Washington State, Utah over Wyoming, Utah State over Colorado Aggies, Denver over Colorado College and Montana over Brigham Young.

The South

Duke over Pittsburgh—Pride in the Oyster Bowl gives slight edge. Georgia Tech over Auburn — Tech is gaining momentum.

Mississippi over Tulane—About 28-14.

Also: Tennessee over Alabama, Vanderbilt over Florida, Maryland over North Carolina, Kentucky over LSU, West Virginia over William and Mary, Mississippi State over Arkansas State, George Washington over VMI, Citadel over Wofford, Davidson over Stetson, Virginia Tech over Richmond and Furman over Newberry.

The Southwest

Texas over Arkansas — Better ball-handling gives slight edge. Southern Methodist over Rice—Mustangs win squeaker.

Texas Christian over Texas A & M—Horned rags are falling. Also: New Mexico over Arizona, Houston over Oklahoma A&M, and Arizona State Tempe over Hardin-Simmons.

The U. S. Treasury will redeem a damaged bill at face value if three-fifths of the original is intact.

Yankees Vote Slaughter Three- Fourths Share

Series Winners Get
$8,714 Apiece;
$6,934 for Losers

NEW YORK —After all these years, Enos Slaughter finally knows what they mean when they say it's great to be a Yankee.

Slaughter, with the club only since Aug. 25, was voted three-quarters of a World Series share, $6,536.10, and the traditionally generous Yankees also handed out 32 other full shares of $8,714.76 apiece in the official distribution today.

The less open handed Dodgers voted only 28 full shares, each one being worth $6,934.34, an all-time high for a defeated World Series team.

Of the 32 full shares voted by the Yankees, 24 went to players who were with the club all season, four full shares went to Stengel and his three coaches, one to trainer Gus Mauch, and a full share apiece to Irv Noren and Phil Rizzuto.

Only 22 players were voted full shares by the Dodgers. One of those was infielder Don Zimmer, forced out for the season during July when he was hit by a pitch. Manager Walt Alston, his three coaches and the trainer also were voted full shares while Brooklyn's World Series hero of 1955, Johnny Podres, now in the Navy, was given $500.

For second-place money, the Cleveland Indians received full shares worth $1,649.05 and the Milwaukee Braves $1,598.32. A full third place share was worth $1,127.75 to the Chicago White Sox and $1,185.25 per man to the Cincinnati Redlegs. The fourth place Boston Red Sox each got a full share worth $505.71 and the cut for the fourth place St. Louis Cardinals amounted to $602.03 apiece.

Looking at Sports

BY BILL MELTON

Eldorado's Lester Fequay continues to top southern Illinois football scorers. After last week's 25 point spurge against Carmi the Eldorado halfback had a total of 90 points. That gives him a fine 16-point-per-game average as the Eldorado team has played five games to date.

Fequay's halfback running mate, Don Gwaltney, is also among the top twelve scorers in southern Illinois with 47 points to his credit.

Marion's offensive minded club has three backs — Merriwether, Anderson and Guiley—among the top point makers.

Three former Carmi high school gridders played prominent parts in Millikin university's 30-26 triumph over Augustana last Saturday. Quarterback Larry Kane tossed two TD passes and kicked four extra points; halfback Louie Mitchell had runs of 22, 18 and 15 yards and fullback Leland Sexton scored on one of Kane's passes.

In reading the exchanges — The Newton Press — I noticed a story about James R. McLaughlin of Mt. Vernon, Democratic candidate for clerk of the Fourth District Appellate Court.

New Manager of Tigers Outlines Get Tough Policy

DETROIT — Jack Tighe, the balding little Irishman who was named manager of the Detroit Tigers Wednesday, promptly outlined a new "get tough" policy for the Bengals camp that will include calisthenics and a curfew.

"No more of this nightie stuff" Tighe snorted. "My players will be in shape next summer and stay that way."

This will be a radical change for the Tigers who have not had a curfew in recent years and had a comparatively soft time of it under easy-going Bucky Harris. The announcement by the new club owners Wednesday that the 43-year-old Tiger coach and former catcher would be the Tigers' 16th manager came as little surprise as it had been strongly reported that he would get the job. His contract is for one year and his salary was undisclosed, although unofficial estimates pegged it at about $25,000.

Boxer Hurt in 3-Story Fall

NEW YORK —Paddy Young, hard scrapping New York middleweight, is in good condition at University Hospital today following a three story fall while working on a construction job.

The hospital told Harry Stickovers, Young's manager, that the boxer is "out of danger" but did not disclose the nature of his injuries.

It was reported that Young, a 28-year-old native of Concord, N. Y., fell from a scaffold on a Madison Avenue building to the ground last Tuesday and was admitted to the hospital in serious condition.

FIGHT RESULTS

By United Press

BOSTON—Gaspar Ortega, 148, Mexico, outpointed Isaac Logart, 146, Cuba (10).

McLaughlin is a former big league baseball player the story relates and was with my old favorites, the late, lamented St. Louis Browns.

Seems that after some exceptional years in the semi-professional game in southern Illinois, McLaughlin attracted big league scouts and the St. Louis Cardinals signed him and he was assigned to Sacramento in the Pacific Coast league. When he arrived in the big time it was with the Cards' neighbors in St. Louis—the Browns.

A broken thumb suffered in 1932 led to arm troubles that ended his big time career.

The Harlem Globe Trotters will play in Harrisburg Thursday, Dec. 13 a letter from Abe Saperstein of the Trotters reveals.

In a letter to The Register, dated Oct. 15, Saperstein states the Trotters are now preparing for their 30th anniversary, with 50 players working out in three different Chicago gyms.

The unit that will be in Harrisburg will include Oliver Rollins, "Deacon" Davis, former Freeport all-stater and standout performer at the University of Iowa and others.

With the Trotters on tour will be the Philadelphia Sphas, one of the first professional basketball organizations to tour the United States.

And, of course, there will be a variety program of entertainment.

Burke and Buydos had halted several cars, about eight in all, and directed them off the road. Without any side roads on which to disperse the vehicles the policemen, despite the owners' screaming indignation, took possession of the auto keys. The small roads which fed into Route 22, Burke knew, were blocked with huge dump trucks rushed to the intersections by public works crews.

At each intersection there were police and auxiliary police road guards. Armed, adamant in their refusal to pleas to "just let me through with my family," they had backed up automobiles in some places for several miles. There were some nasty incidents, but generally the situation was under control.

Every so often Burke heard the faraway, bass-pitched thunder of a group of jets. He wondered if the fighters were on interception flights.

People were approaching slowly from out of the darkness, from the direction of Harrington. Their faces were white, frightened masks. About 60 in all, Burke estimated, trailed by small groups of stragglers. They were carrying together valises and trunks, complaining mutely of the cold, the horror, the disruption of all sanity.

Some walked on the highway, and to these he called, shouting at them to walk on the side of the road, to be careful of the racing trucks.

Burke was aware of the futility of attempting to halt the movement of these groups as they drifted, in increasing numbers, outward from the city to the cold and the comparable safety of open country. What could he possibly do?

He called Buydos. The police car door opened and Burke shouted, "Turn the spotlight on! Keep it trained down the road so we can pick these people up. There's too many wandering onto the highway, and some of them are going to be hurt when these trucks come redballing down!"

On at least two occasions trucks moving toward Harrington were forced to jam on their brakes; an elderly man was struck the second time. The old man had wandered from the roadside directly into the path of the heavy vehicle.

Burke ran up to the police car "Ward, call in to zone headquarters and tell them the situation is getting out of hand, that we're having trouble keeping the highway clear of people on foot. We need some help, at least one more car and about 10 or 20 auxiliary cops. Better tell zone that the stuff moving into Harrington is having difficulty getting through. If it keeps on getting worse like it has been for the last hour, we're going to be in trouble."

Burke opened the trunk of the car, and picked up a powerful emergency hand light. He grabbed a half-dozen long-burning road flares, and ran down the highway, setting the flares on the ground every hundred yards to illuminate the road.

Burke ran back to the police car "Zone hasn't got very much that's good, Ed." Buydos said. "They've notified ACP Four to try and give police escort to each major convoy as it passes through, but there aren't that many cars to go around. They also say they're trying to get some auxiliaries out here to give us a hand, but they're awfully short."

Unknown to the two policemen, a large welfare assembly camp several miles down the road, with in Harrington, had just exploded in a fury of wild panic. Improvised tents had pulled their stakes before the firestorm-fed wind; shock and terror refused to succumb to the inadequate efforts of too-few welfare workers and air raid wardens.

The frightened and demoralized mother of two youngsters became the detonating cap of the explosion. Her husband was missing, one child was dead, and she and her two surviving children had escaped the spreading flames only by scant minutes.

The children, as could be expected, cold, hungry, terror-stricken, threw up. Their mother, already at the breaking point, remembered dimly something she had read many months before. The words flashed to her mind:

"... and, while such radiation from an atomic explosion cannot be detected by the usual senses, the exposed individual will show signs of listlessness, become afflicted with nausea, and frequently vomit."

"My children!" she shrieked. "They've got radiation sickness! They're going to die from radiation poisoning! My children!" Sobbing, hysterical, she grasped the youngsters to her body. Nauseated, cold, frightened, they stared unbelievably at their mother. They cried, in wailing, piercing screams.

The word flitted through the group with lightning speed. "Radiation!"

A man stood up, uncontrollable, shouting. "Radiation. We'll die if

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Wires, discs and tapes on dictating machines give back the exact words that were spoken into the microphones. Occasionally we get back some "gobbledegook" because we have not spoken distinctly or because of a mechanical failure, but generally we hear what we have said.

Frequently we are amazed at the combinations of words which we hear. We have not said what we thought we were saying. Occasionally we do not make sense in our expressions. We find that our word choice is poor, and that we have not finished our sentences. We repeat ourselves and we omit important thoughts.

It is a good idea to listen to ourselves every now and then in order to see what we sound like to other people. When we thus audit our expression we must remember that we have been thinking more carefully than when we are normally conversing. It is no wonder that others do not always understand us.

Most of us need a great deal of practice in expressing ourselves. There is no better guide to self expression than we can find in the Bible.

When the Bible says "go and we stay here!" Still shouting, now incoherently, he staggered to his feet and ran from the area.

One woman screaming. One man shouting and running. Then two. Then 20. Within less than a minute, every occupant of the welfare area capable of moving on his own two feet was running.

"Into the country!" Flee for your lives! The whole place is radioactive! You'll all die if you stay here!"

sin no more" there is little room for misunderstanding. If we express ourselves as clearly as did the writers of the scriptures, we shall be better understood than most of us are today.

State Payrolls Show Increase

SPRINGFIELD — State payrolls for July showed an increase of 2,797 persons and $1,378,935 over July, 1955, State Auditor Lloyd Morey reported today.

The July, 1956, payroll was 49,363 persons and $15,422,093. This was a decrease of 1,693 persons from June, 1955, but an increase of $285,005 over June, 1955.

How did the Hodge & Dunbar scandals happen under the Stratton administration?

TOMORROW—'57 CHEVROLET!
IT'S SWEET, SMOOTH AND SASSY!

Chevy goes 'em all one better—with a daring new departure in design (looks longer and lower, and it is!), exclusive new Turboglide automatic transmission with triple turbines, a new V8 and a bumper crop of new ideas including fuel injection!

New right down to the wheels it rolls on—that's the '57 Chevrolet!

By now you know it's new in style. You can see that Chevy's longer, lower—and every inch a beauty. But Chevrolet's new in lots of ways that don't show up in our picture. It's new in V8 power options that range up to 245 h.p.* Then, you've a choice of two automatic drives as extra-cost options. There's an even finer Powerglide—and new, nothing-like-it Turboglide that brings you Triple-Turbine take-off and a new flowing kind of going. It's the only one of its kind!

Come see the new car that goes 'em all one better—the new 1957 Chevrolet!

The new Bel Air 4-Door Sedan—one of 20 striking new Chevs.
